Thank you for your support of The Campaign for Drexel, including your generosity during this current academic year.

This season of giving, Drexel University celebrates the extraordinary commitment of alumni, friends, faculty and staff, like you, who have helped The Campaign for Drexel reach a remarkable milestone. Your impact is profound — propelling the aspirations of our students and securing Drexel’s future as an innovative leader in higher education. With six months and less than $15 million needed to meet our historic goal, your continued partnership can create more opportunities and change more lives. Join us as we cross this historic finish line.

Campaign Progress Summary

As we approach the new winter term, your support for Campaign priorities such as scholarships and professorships, co-op opportunities, research and curricular innovation is essential to further propel Drexel’s success and impact. Your commitment directly fuels the University’s capacity to prepare students for academic and professional success, create solutions to urgent societal challenges, and affect positive change for communities in Philadelphia and beyond.

To date, more than 39,000 alumni have shown their support through donations, volunteering, mentoring students and attending events.

Gift Supports Artist-in-Residence and Costume Collection

Transformative gifts from two anonymous donors will establish an artist-in-residence program at the Antoinette Westphal College of Media Arts & Design and support exhibitions and curatorial fellowships at the Robert and Penny Fox Historic Costume Collection.

Aerospace Leader Supports Female Students

Gifts from TransDigm Group Inc., a global aerospace producer, designer and supplier, support female undergraduate students at the College of Engineering and LeBow College of Business. TransDigm was co-founded by Drexel alumnus W. Nicholas (Nick) Howley ’75 and Doug Peacock, and it established the scholarship awards to honor Mr. Peacock after his death.
